Jay Leno Performs At Boca West Community
Charitable Foundation Concert

Funny guy Jay Leno, along with the Atlantic City Boys, will perform at the Boca West Community Charitable Foundation's annual "Concert for the Children" on March 31 at the Akoya

Jay Leno

15 charities with which the organization works.

Known as one of the hardest-working men in show business, Leno dominated late-night TV ratings for more than 19 years as host of "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno," and remains an admired stand-up comedian, best-selling children's author, in-demand corporate speaker, TV and film voiceover artist, pioneering car builder and mechanic, and philanthropist.

"In determining who we wished to star in our 'Concert for the Children' this coming year, Jay Leno was always at the top of our list because of his humanitarian efforts throughout the world," said Arthur Adler, foundation chairman.

Charities the foundation has helped include: Boca Helping Hands, Boca Raton Police Athletic League, Boys & Girls Club of Boca Raton, Caridad Center, FAU Elementary School Band Camp, Florence Fuller Child Development Centers, Gift of Life Bone

Funds raised will benefit at-risk children and their families in South Palm Beach County. Each year, Boca West Community Charitable Foundation serves more than 3,000 children, and its volunteers have donated 45,000 hours of time and more than $1.5 million to the Marrow Foundation, The Giving Tree, Jewish Adoption & Family Care Options, Jewish Federation of South Palm Beach County Safety Net Services, Scope Education Services, SOS Children's Villages, Unicorn Village Academy, Wayne Barton Study Center and more.

Concert doors open at 6 p.m., with the Atlantic City Boys taking the stage at 8 p.m. and Jay Leno at 9 p.m. The event is sponsored by The Boca Raton Observer. o
