Budsies gives plush toys to Fuller Center

Alex Furmansky, founder and CEO of Budsies, a Lake Worth company that brings artwork to life, joined with the Boca West Foundation to deliver 60 stuffed animals to 4-year-olds at Florence Fuller Development Center in Boca Raton. The kids had drawn pictures, which Budsies then had hand-sewn into personalized plush animals.

Arthur Adler, president of the Boca West Foundation, and numerous foundation volunteers participated in the presentation.
